

Big Boom Due In All Sports, Says Rubien

Practically All the Eastern Colleges Are Entered in the Senior Indoor Meet

According to Frederick W. Rubien, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, the promised boom in athletics as a result of the war is becoming more of a reality every day. He takes this viewpoint after going over the batch of letters which has come to hand during the last few days from clubs, colleges and individual champions all over the country, making inquiries regarding the national senior indoor championships, which are to take place at the 13th Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, on Saturday evening, March 8.

Practically all of the colleges of the East have added the national meet to their schedules this year, and many of the colleges as far west as St. Louis have promised to have their individual stars on hand to try for a national title in this meet, which is recognized as the blue ribbon event of the indoor track season.

The University of Pennsylvania won the team championship last year, and Coach Lawson Robertson will bring on a strong team in the hope of duplicating his win of 1918. Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Yale, Lafayette, M. I. T. and Boston College are among the educational institutions in the East that will probably be represented by their best men.

Albert Geiger, jr., chairman of the athletic committee of the Boston A. A., called upon Mr. Rubien when in New York on Friday and entered a team of ten men from the B. A. A., the most prominent of whom are Halpin, Caldwell, Rose, Mahoney, Barwise, Whalen and Leath.

The Chicago Athletic Association was not represented by a team last year as practically all of their stars were in the service, but Coach Martin A. Delaney, of the Cherry Circle Club, expects to bring on practically the same team which romped away with the national outdoor team championship at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station last September. The most prominent stars on Delaney's team are Joe Loomis and his brother Frank, T. T. Hoskins, Avery Brundage, H. T. Torkelson, Walker Smith, C. G. Krohn, Jr., and R. L. Trevethick.

Cornell University has a strong team for the Medley relay championship, for which event Jack Mosley's team holds the championship title won last year's title games. Indiana University is planning to send on its star sprinter for the 60 and 300 yard races. Nathan Collier is his name, and E. O. Stehm, director of athletics at the university, states that he has run the century in 10 flat repeatedly and the 220 in 21 1/2 seconds.

The events on the championship list, for which entries close next Saturday, are 60-yard dash, 300-yard run, 600-yard run, 1,000-yard run, two-mile run, two-mile walk, 70-yard high hurdles, standing high jump, standing broad jump, running high jump, 16-pound shot put and Medley relay race, for teams of four men, running in the following order: First mile, 440 yards; second, 220 yards; third, 880 yards; fourth, one mile.

O'Brien Proves Victor In Army-Navy Shoot

GREAT NECK, N. Y., Feb. 22.—The transmuting committee of the Great Neck Golf Club, of which William C. Peetner is chairman, staged an army and navy shoot on the new club traps here today. James O'Brien, of Duaneville, won the event, a hundred bird handicap affair.

O'Brien emerged a victor after he had tied with Bernard Kanker and W. Toher, the three having full scores with their handicap allowances.

William Dummer, of Port Washington, was high gun, breaking 87.

The scores follow:

Brooks	Hop	Greer
James O'Brien	87	87
Bernard Kanker	87	87
W. Toher	87	87
William Dummer	87	87
W. J. Peetner	87	87
H. Thompson	87	87
H. H. Stanton	87	87
D. H. Smith	87	87
Jack Fanning	87	87
Wm. L. Lanning	87	87

New Rochelle Y. C. Plans Busy Season

The New Rochelle Yacht Club is already planning for a busy season. It will hold its annual regatta in June and there also will be a long distance race from New Rochelle to Stratford Shoal and return in July. A summer regatta for all classes of craft is scheduled for August. The season will come to a close with a race for boats in the handicap class.

It is expected that the club will challenge for the Manhattan Bay Cup for Class P sloops, the probable New Rochelle entry being the Anita, owned by G. P. Granbery. This trophy is now in the possession of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club following the victory of the Nahma, owned by A. G. Hannan, in the races held in 1916.

Havana to Play Host To Two Chess Experts

J. R. Capablanca, the Cuban chess champion, and Boris Kostich, a Serbian star, who so far have played only four match games, all ending in draws, have received an invitation from the Club de Ajedrez de Havana, to a contest of eight games at the Cuban metropolis, and the players have decided to play on March 15.

Syracuse Five Wins

Syracuse University defeated the City College basketball team by a score of 12 to 11 in a contest on the latter's court last night. The small score is accountable to the close guarding that was in order throughout the game.

Dolley, the Syracuse forward scored four of his team's five field goals. Three of these came in the second half. For all of the up-state teams scoring in this period. At half time the teams were tied at 5—all.

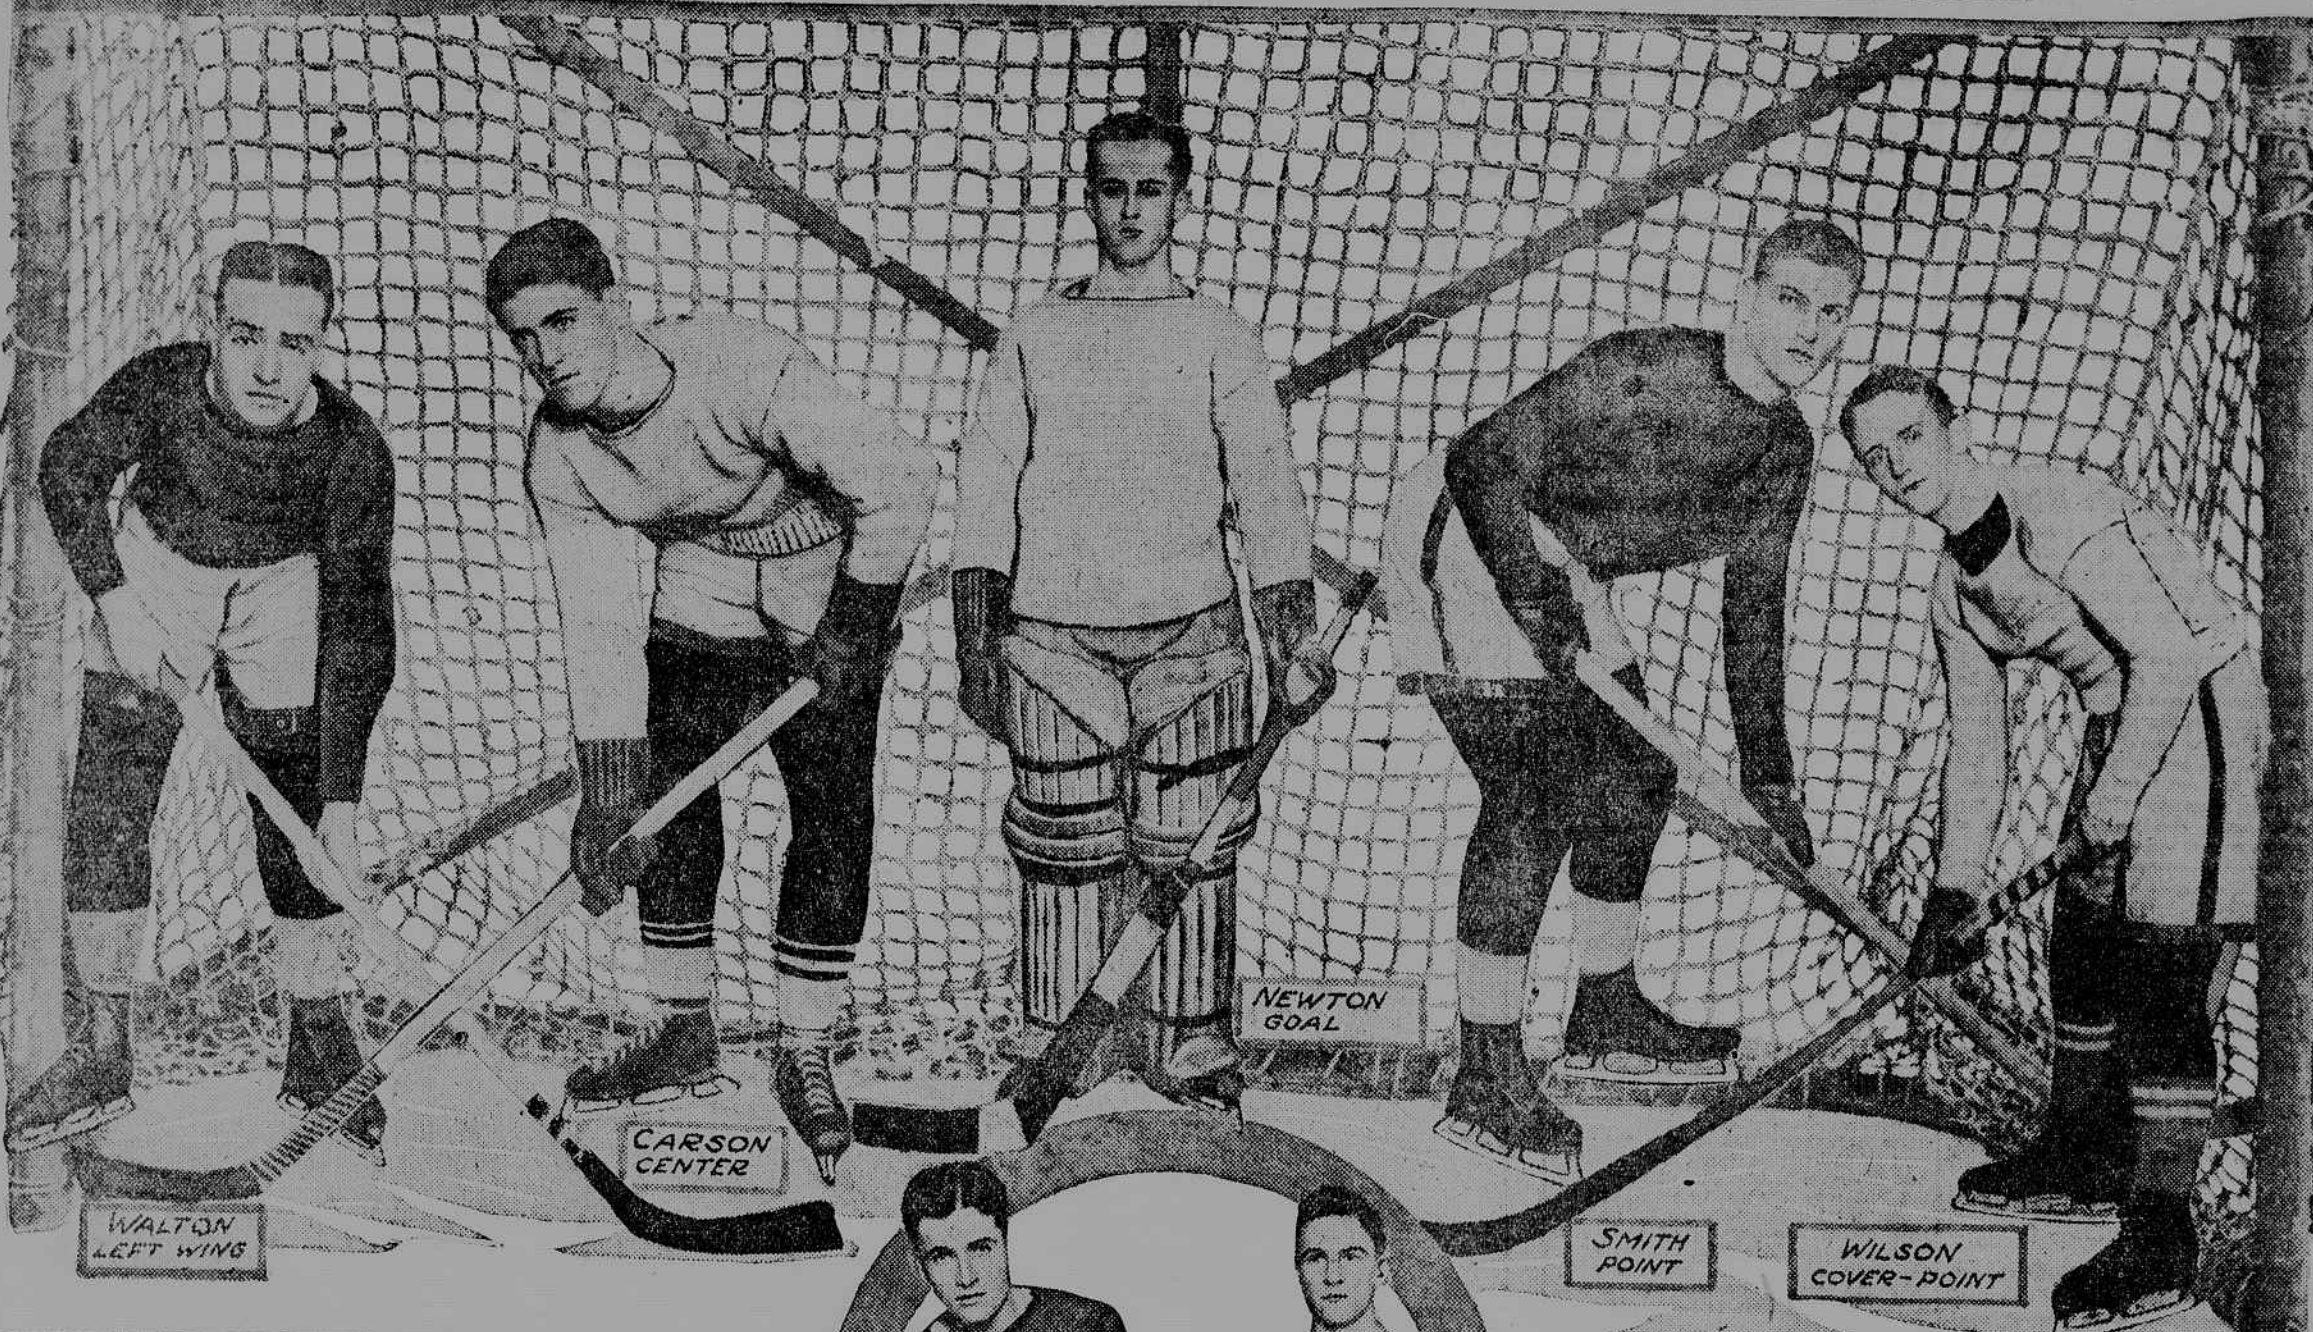

N. Y. U. Five Defeated

The basketball team of the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute defeated New York University last night in the University Heights gym, by a score of 48 to 30.

Amherst Swimmers Win

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Feb. 22.—Amherst defeated Wesleyan in a swimming meet here today by a score of 28 to 25.

Yale's Sterling Hockey Players in Action on the Ice

On Trial

By W. O. McGeehan

(Scene—Courtroom of Judge P. B. Publico, where A. Boxer, professional pugilist is on trial for petty larceny, vagrancy and other violations of the Penal Code. The prisoner has a pair of tin ears, a twisted proboscis and an overshot jaw. It looks tough for him.)

THE COURT.—We are ready to proceed with the case of the Public vs. Boxer. Call the first witness.

THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY.—Mr. Augustus Sapp, take the stand, Mr. Boxer, do you know the prisoner at the bar?

MR. SAPP.—I would not say that I know him intimately. I saw him once at a boxing show.

THE P. A.—Tell the court exactly what you saw.

MR. SAPP.—I saw this person strike another person most viciously. The other person fell to the floor and a number of his companions, who, I believe, are known as seconds, were forced to revive him by pouring the contents of a bottle down his throat.

THE COURT.—What is the belief that the bottle contained spirits or alcoholic beverage of some sort?

MR. SAPP.—I believe it was.

THE COURT.—Objection sustained. The witness has not shown that he tasted the contents of the bottle.

MR. SAPP.—Your honor, I have never tasted spirits.

THE COURT.—You won't have much more opportunity.

THE P. A.—Could you say that the contents was brutal? The prisoner at the bar did great bodily harm to his opponent?

MR. SAPP.—Most certainly. It was very brutal.

THE P. A.—That will do. Mr. Alroy, call the next witness.

MR. LOWBROW.—Say, what are you trying to hand me? Those two guys didn't swing one punch that would have bruised a butterfly's wing.

THE PRISONER (interrupting).—What does that guy want for two bucks, the Battle of Waterloo?

THE COURT.—Order in the court.

THE P. A.—Then you would not consider the accused brutal.

MR. LOWBROW.—Say, what are you trying to hand me? Say he didn't muss the other guy's hair. That hunka cheese did a Fred McKay and I shot two whole fish for me seat. I want him sloughed into the hoatzow for swindling.

THE P. A.—I wish to introduce one of the sporting writers who saw this disgraceful affair.

THE P. A.—Where were you during the week of Colonel Huston's party?

SPORTING WRITER.—I don't remember and I don't want to.

THE COURT.—Witness is excused. Testimony shown conclusively that he was at the party.

THE P. A.—That closes the case for the prosecution.

ATTORNEY FOR DEFENCE.—I wish to introduce Tex Rickard, the promoter. Mr. Rickard, state whether or not you would consider the defendant, Mr. A. Boxer, a reputable citizen and a honest and openwork countenance of my client and judge for yourself. It is true that he has a couple of tin ears and a bungled over his left eye. It is true that his smaller points to the north like the north star. But these are distinguishing marks of his great profession. I demand his acquittal.

THE COURT.—You were not drafted, prisoner?

THE PRISONER.—I got exemption, your honor, on the ground that my manager was dependent upon me.

THE COURT.—Not guilty, but keep out of this court in future.

Willard-Dempsey Fight

A Legal Analysis

By Emanuel Tacker
(Of the New York State Bar)

Although lawyers have known it for ages, it was not until George M. Cohan turned up "A Pair of Sixes" that the general public was let into the secret that a contract involving a transaction contrary to law cannot be enforced, and that the defense of illegality is a perfect defense to an action brought on such a contract. This does not mean merely that such agreements are void if based up with crimes of greater degree, such as murder, larceny, fraud, assault and battery, and the like, but actually means that if the transaction which is sought to be enforced is in violation of any law of any kind on the statute books in the jurisdiction engages in, instigates, aids, encourages, or does any act to further a contention, or fight, without weapons, between two or more persons, or a fight commonly called a ring or prize fight, either within or without the state, or that he engages in a public or private sparring exhibition, with or without gloves, within the state, at which an admission fee is charged or received, either directly or indirectly, or who accepts or publishes a challenge, or acceptance of a challenge for such a contention, exhibition or fight, or carries or delivers such a challenge or acceptance, or trains or assists any person in training or preparing for such a contention, exhibition or fight, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

No wonder Willard had the jump on Jack Curley and Tom Jones. This section is not content with prohibiting boxing bouts and let the thing go at that! Not only are we forbidden to "engage in" a prizefight, but we must not "instigate" or "aid" it. And not merely that, but we must not even "encourage" or "do any act to further such a fight. And looking further, we note that we are prohibited from entering a challenge for such a fight, or accepting it, or even from "carrying" or "delivering" such a challenge or acceptance.

So we find that when Willard's managers sued him for breach of contract he alleged that the contract on which his managers were suing was entered into for the purpose of promoting a prize fight between him and Jack Johnson, the then heavyweight champion of the world, which fight was to take place somewhere outside of the State of New York, that Curley went to England, where Johnson was living, and procured Johnson's agreement to go to New York and fight Willard, that having accomplished this, Curley returned to New York and told Willard about what had done, that Willard accepted Jack Johnson's challenge to fight with Willard to go to El Paso to train, that thereafter the fight was held at Havana, Cuba, where Jess put Jack Johnson and Willard in the ring, and that these facts Willard in his answer alleged were in violation and contravention of the laws of the State of New York, and were, therefore, illegal.

Willard was not wrong. The contract on which the managers sued was an agreement in which Willard agreed that they were to be his exclusive managers for a period of three years, the profits to be divided according to the time when Willard would fight. Jack Johnson for the heavyweight championship, the division to be on a slightly different basis after that event. His employment of them as his managers was to have included prizefights, exhibitions, theatrical engagements and the many other side lines which were to keep the wolf from the door. There was the nub—the agreement expressly provided that Curley and Jones were to manage Willard in all his pugilistic encounters, and the contract, furthermore, was made in New York.

Now, there are lots of laws that even lawyers do not take the trouble to look up, except in a very general way, unless actually forced to do so in working up a case. Little blame to them, because laws and amendments are turned out fast by the Legislature. Small wonder, then, that innocent laymen like the good-natured Jack Curley and Honest Tom Jones should have failed to have dug into the penal law to find out what they should have done to protect their interest and conserve their legal rights. If they had, and had had the patience to read its sections from A to Z, they would have come across an article bearing the title "Prizefighting and Sparring" where a great many words are printed warning the good people of our state against prizefighting and fistie arguments generally.

America's Only Naval Ace Captain of Eli's Ice Team

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 22.—Lack of ice has cost Yale a brilliant hockey season. A squad of potential power and cleverness has been unable to secure development and team skill, and the sport has lacked the prominence which it deserves. Only two games have been played, both in the Brooklyn Ice Palace, Yale losing its match to Harvard, 4 to 1, but capturing the game from Princeton, 6 to 1.

Hockey is regarded by Yale undergraduates as essentially a major sport, and before many seasons it will be openly proclaimed one, but less attention has been given it and its schedule season than of the other winter sports, schedules—basketball, swimming, water polo and even wrestling.

Individually and judged by preparatory school records, the present squad is one of Yale's strongest aggregations of players.

David S. Ingalls, captain and rover, was the only American ace in naval aviation during the war with Germany. He is credited with the credit of college after two years' air service to lead a hockey team which was cramped worse for playing facilities than any other Yale aggregation in recent years. He is twenty years old, six feet tall and weighs 170 pounds. His home is in Cleveland.

R. Carson, centre, captained the freshman team two years ago. He is twenty years old, stands 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs only 135 pounds. He is Paul's School, at Concord, N. H.

J. Wier Sargent, right wing, a New Haven boy, also came from St. Paul's School. He is twenty-one years old, weighs 151 pounds and is 5 feet 11 inches tall.

C. Walton, left wing, another St. Paul player of the past, is twenty-three years old, weighs 165 pounds and is 5 feet 9 inches in height.

N. J. Smith, point, came from the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., and is twenty years old, weighs 151 pounds and is 5 feet 9 inches in height.

C. F. Wilson, cover point, is another former St. Paul School star. He is twenty-one years old, weighs 142 pounds and is 5 feet 7 inches in height.

J. F. Polinder, goal, another St. Paul School graduate, is twenty-one years old, weighs 146 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches tall. He is a member of the senior class. All the other players are juniors except Carson, who is a sophomore.

Cup Matches Centre Of Interest in Soccer

Cup matches in the annual competition of the Southern New York Football Association will have the right of way on the soccer schedule for this afternoon at the Hotel Maurice, where the Vikings and Longfellow will meet in the first round.

Vikings vs. Longfellow at Lenox Oval, 1:45 p. m.; New York vs. Rangers at Lenox Oval, 3:15 p. m.; Ted Yorks vs. Pulton A. C. vs. La Salle at Field, Brooklyn; Prospect P. C. vs. La Salle at Field, Brooklyn; Macdonald A. C. vs. Celtic, with a double-header at Lenox Oval, where New York and the Rangers and the Vikings and Longfellow will meet in the first round.

Fordham Opens Football Season With Lafayette

Gargan Expected to Serve as Head Coach; Game With Princeton Scheduled

Fordham's football season will get under way a week later than has been customary in previous years, according to the schedule announced last night by Manager Raymond J. Kelly. The Maroon eleven will open the season with Lafayette at Easton, Penn., on October 4th.

The gridiron prospects are brighter than in several years past and a formidable schedule has been arranged. The first intercollegiate games with Princeton, Rutgers and Georgetown.

Frank Gargan, who coached Fordham eleven in 1916 and who has since been serving with the Fordham ambulance unit in France, is expected to return in time to resume his duties as head coach in the fall.

No captain has as yet been elected, but it is probable that the choice will fall on Frank Frisch, who has been the star of the team for the past two seasons.

The complete schedule follows:

October 4—Lafayette at Easton, Penn.; 11, Maroon at Fordham Field; 12, Princeton at Princeton; 13, Rutgers at Fordham Field; 14, Georgetown at Fordham Field; 15, Lafayette at Easton, Penn.; 16, Princeton at Princeton;
